This license agreement is a legally binding contract between you, the licensee, and ARS Type® (Angus R. Shamal). By downloading, installing and/or using this font software, you acknowledge that you understand this license agreement and promise to comply with its terms. If you do not accept the terms, please do not complete the purchase transaction or installing the font.

1. License & Usage rights
Upon payment of the usage fee, you are granted the non-exclusive and non-transferable right to use the font software on a number of computers within your organization as determined by the number of licenses you have purchased and stated in your invoice. By default, each ARS Type Typeface is licensed for 5 workstations (CPUs) at 1 location. You can purchase additional licenses at any time either directly from ARS Type or from the authorized Re-seller with which you placed your order. Please include your contact information, and the invoice number for any existing font licenses.

The number of output devices (Laser/Color/Inkjet Printers) is not restricted, provided that these devices do not store the font software permanently.

2.1 Copyright
Typeface design and font software – including all updates, expansions, modified versions and working copies – are intellectual property of and are owned by ARS Type (Angus R. Shamal). You agree that typeface design and font software are protected by Dutch and International copyright, design patent and trademark laws. All rights reserved unless expressly granted in this agreement. For your own use and within the conditions granted in this agreement, you are allowed to make a backup copy of the font software, documentation and license agreement. You are not authorized to distribute the font software in any way, whether by selling, lending, donating or otherwise.

2.2 No Transfer of Rights
You shall not sell, lease, sublicense, allow to use, or otherwise assign or transfer any of your rights, duties or obligations under this Agreement, in whole or in part, to any person or entity. Without limiting the foregoing, Typefaces licensed for use by a specific publication shall not be transferred to or used by other publications owned or managed by a common corporate parent, and/or affiliated with the specific publication to which this license has been granted, without the purchase of an additional license from ARS Type. A transfer of the license you were granted requires a written permission by ARS Type; upon transfer of your license, you must delete the font software and all copies thereof.

3. Printing
We recommend that you provide your service bureau with a Workflow PDF file with the font software embedded if the PDF file meets the conditions mentioned in paragraph 4.1.

4.1 Embedding in Workflow PDFs
For the sole purpose of providing documents to printers or other outside suppliers for reproduction, ARS Type grants you a limited license to create and circulate Embedded Documents in the PDF format ("Workflow PDFs") subject to the following restrictions: (a) these Workflow PDFs must have "subsetting" enabled, to limit to the greatest extent possible the number of characters of the Typefaces embedded; (b) Workflow PDFs must be configured to be "non-editable," to prevent the alteration, addition, deletion or extraction of any text, by any party other than the licensee; (c) Workflow PDFs must be transmitted individually, on a one-to-one basis, over a closed network. Under no circumstances will this Agreement be construed to entitle you or your agents or assigns to broadcast Workflow PDFs, or any form of Embedded Documents, over public computer networks, including but not limited to publicly accessible pages on the World Wide Web.

4.2 Embedding in Flash Files
For the sole purpose of creating vector graphics for inclusion on web pages, ARS Type grants you a limited license to create and circulate Embedded Documents in the SWF format ("Flash Files"), subject to the following restrictions: (a) Flash Files must have "subsetting" enabled, to limit to the greatest extent possible the number of characters of the Typefaces embedded; (b) Flash Files must be "static," not "dynamic," as to prevent any party other than the licensee from specifying, selecting, copying, cutting, pasting or modifying the text that is displayed in the Typefaces; (c) Flash Files must be configured to "Protect from Import."

4.3 Embedding in commercial products
Embedding the font software in commercial products requires a special license. (Examples: eBooks, games, DVDs or any other Software.) Contact ARS Type for more information.

4.4 Embedding for web
You may use the font software in websites in a form of Cufón or sIFR for one (1) time on one (1) website. You are not allowed to use all Desktop fonts that are bound under this License for web font linking via @font–face. For this purpose, ARS Type offering special "Webfont" licenses for a selection of our fonts. Visit our Shop for Webfont options and read our standard Webfont License Agreement for our terms and conditions.
Please note that you are not allowed to do format conversion yourself (to web formats such as .woff format and .eot format), see paragraph 5 below.

4.5 Broadcasting
For using the Font Software in broadcasts, video or film, an additional Broadcasting License extension is needed and needs to be acquired prior to first use. Broadcast and film usage refers to the use of the Font Software in titling, credits or other text for any onscreen broadcast via television, video or motion picture (whether original or re–rerun, both foreign and domestic). Contact ARS Type for available options.

5. Modification
Any modification of the font software, including conversion into other formats, requires written permission by ARS Type. If permission was granted, the copyright for modified font software remains with ARS Type, and modified font software too is subject to the terms of this license agreement. Thus, modified font software must not be distributed in any way.

6. Upgrading
You can upgrade non–featured 'Basic' font software to the equivalent full–featured version at any time. Upon upgrading, you must delete the 'Basic' font software version and all copies thereof. You can also upgrade your license for a larger number of workstations or to a fuller more complete family at any time. For more information about your specific request please contact ARS Type. Please include your contact/billing information, the purchase number and transaction ID number of prior purchases you wish to upgrade.

7. Warranty and limitation of liability

ARS Type has done everything to produce high quality OpenType fonts. Minimum system requirement is Mac OSX or Windows 7/Vista/XP/2000. Please note that not all systems or applications support OpenType features and kerning at all or equally well.

If you do experience any difficulties with our font software, please contact us, and we will do our best to resolve any issues. If this should not be possible, we will be pleased to refund your money, which shall be the limit of our liability in this transaction.

Except for this warranty granted, there is no warranty for performance or results obtained by using the font software. ARS Type will not be liable for any damages, claims or costs whatsoever or any direct, indirect, special, incidental or consequential damages, business interruption, nor for lost profits, savings or business information, arising out of any use of, or inability to use, the font software.

8. Final provisions

If you breach any term of this agreement, ARS Type will notify You of such breach and offer you the opportunity to rectify the breach within sixty (60) days. In the event of any breach of this license, licensor shall be limited to an action for damages. In the event of termination, you must deactivate or delete the webfont software and all copies thereof.

Should individual terms of this contract become invalid or unenforceable, all others will remain in full force and effect.

This contract is subject to the law of the Netherlands. Place of jurisdiction Rotterdam District Court.
